

Leadership Structure at FCC

Boards and Committees

First Congregational Church is governed by its members, but its operations are managed by representative leaders (in partnership with its chosen Minister) through central Church Boards and Complimentary Committees. Elections happen every November during the Nominating Meeting by the congregation.

Elected Officers:

There are four elected officers for the First Congregational Church UCC:

- Moderator and Moderator-Elect are two-year terms
- Secretary and Treasurer are one-year terms
- Church Clerk is a one-year term

Church Council

- The Church Council is the governing body of the First Congregational Church. It oversees the general operation through the central Church Boards (Christian Education, Diaconate, Missions, and Trustees) and may amend the budget as necessary to meet needs or changes.

Board of Christian Education

- Five-member board with three-year terms supervising and directing the total education work of the church, from elementary and youth programming to adult learning opportunities.

Board of Diaconate

- Twelve-member board with three-year terms attending to the spiritual and sacramental needs of the church. The board provides ministries of personal outreach and welcoming of visitors to the church.

Board of Missions

- Seven-member board with three-year terms administering social services, benevolences and mission endeavors of the church. This board also oversees distribution of mission funds and promotes opportunities for hands-on outreach, including local, national and international sites.

Board of Trustees

- Nine-member board with three-year terms that handles care and custody of all church assets, buildings, grounds and property. The board oversees business and financial matters and prepares the annual budget, overseeing its usage.

Complimentary Committees:

Endowment Fund Committee

- Five-member committee with three-year terms serving as custodian for the Endowment Fund.
- One member is a Trustee appointed by the Board of Trustees.

Auxiliary Boards:

Pastoral Relations

- 3 church members and Moderator-Elect to support and maintain open and healthy relationship between Minister(s) and members of the congregation.

Spiritual Friendships

- Church members tasked with creating opportunities for fellowship and engagement as a community.

Personnel

- Moderator, Moderator-Elect, Senior Minister, Trustee representative, and 2 church members evaluate staff performance and the total ministry of the church.

Kitchen Ministry Team

- Plans and prepares both internal and external fellowship luncheons, dinners, and outreach meals, including weddings, funerals, and fundraising opportunities.

Audio/Visual Team

- Open to all members interested in assisting with sound, lighting and video-editing of services
